

The Final Countdown – One World Government Part 5

“One time during supper, Orson was really impressed with the meat entrée that Jeanette had made, (must have been cow) and so Orson asks, “What did you marinate this in?”

And Jeanette immediately went into a long explanation about how much she loved him and how just life wouldn't be the same without him, and how incredible he was, and all that stuff...

And eventually, Orson's puzzled and befuddled look made Jeanette respond, “Well wait a second, what did you ask me?”

And Orson said, “I asked what did you marinate this in.”

And Jeanette chuckled and said, “Oh, I thought you said, Would I marry you again!”

And as Jeanette was leaving the room, Orson called back out to her and said, “Well, would you marry me again?”

And without hesitation, Jeanette said, “Vinegar and barbecue sauce.”

They just weren't getting it, were they? But that's right folks, believe it or not, they're not alone. You see, the Bible says God's been trying to get a message to us for over 2,000 years about how mankind is heading towards our absolute worst nightmare, but were not getting it! The message is not getting through! Huh? What? What'd He say? Vinegar and BBQ sauce? And so folks the Bible is clear, because of this we're running the risk of being thrust into the Antichrist's kingdom and we'll have desperately wished that we had listened. And that all begins of course at the rapture of the Church!

And folks, the reason why it's going to be such a horrible time is because for those who refuse to accept Jesus Christ as their Personal Lord and Savior they'll be catapulted into the 7-year Tribulation and it's not a joke! It's an outpouring of God's wrath on a wicked and rebellious planet. In fact Jesus said in Matthew 24 it's going to be a "time of greater horror than anything the world has ever seen or will ever see again. And that "unless that time of calamity is shortened, the entire human race will be destroyed." But praise God, God's not only a God of wrath, He's a God of love as well. And because He loves you and I, He's given us many warning signs to show us when the Tribulation was near and when Jesus Christ's 2nd Coming was rapidly approaching.

Therefore, in order to keep you and I here at Sunrise from experiencing the ultimate bad day of being left behind, even worse than Vinegar and BBQ sauce, we're going to continue in our series The Final Countdown. And so far we've already seen how the #10 sign on The Final Countdown was The Jewish People. The #9 sign was Modern Technology. The #8 sign was Worldwide Upheaval. The #7 sign was The Rise of Falsehood. The #6 sign was The Rise of Wickedness. The #5 sign was The Rise of Apostasy. The #4 sign was The Rise of A One World Religion. And the last four times we saw how the #3 sign was The Rise of

A One World Government. And what we saw there was that God lovingly foretold you and I that when we see all the world's governments on the planet coming together as one, which is happening right now today all over the world. And we saw that with the Chronological proof, the Administration proof, the Quotation proof, the Tactical proof, the Control proof, and last time with the Monitor proof where we saw how the Antichrist is not only going to control the whole planet and everything we do, he's going to monitor it. Every single aspect of our lives is going to be monitored with a Big Brother Type of surveillance system to detect any resisters and ensure that we obey! And we saw it's already being done with our Information System and our Communication System and we saw he's already got those big databases on us and he's already listening to everything we say. In fact, with all this information and communication that we saw last week he's gathering on us, they can even predict not only where we are, but even what "moods" we're in, all across the United States!"

Check this out! This is wild! Remember what the Google Co-founder said, "We want to be like the mind of God."

Social Media & Smart Phones:

Reporter: Robert Lee Hotz

The smart phone in your pocket, multiplied by millions worldwide, is giving academic researchers a God's eye view of the world. Almost three quarters of the world's population has a mobile phone for conversation and internet access. Physicists, urban planners and social scientists are eagerly weaving millions of these electronic threads of data into patterns of people on the move. Through studies that, until now, were all but impossible. That dynamic ebb and flow of data reveals the invisible nervous system of our information age and the internet economy. Using these, a company called Sense Networks, founded by computer scientists at M.I.T. and Columbia University, used cell phone data to map trends in urban nightlife. They can follow the crowds around fashionable restaurants and trendy bars. This animation shows how people in San Francisco move from hot spot to hot spot over the course of an evening. And this animation shows 300 million posts via twitter in a day into a dynamic national mood map that shows how our collective emotions change during the day. Moving across the country like a weather front. The green is a measure of our good feeling. Red shows our unhappiness, and by this measure, Americans are happiest in the morning and late evening. It's one in a wave of ambitious social network experiments underway in the U.S. and Europe to track our movements, probe our relationships and ultimately affect the individual choices we all make."

Hmmm. Looks like Google got their wish! Is that creepy or what?

We're like little ants on the ground as the Big Eye in the Sky watches our every move and even predicts our behavior! A mood map! Can you believe it? For the first time in the history of mankind, we can even predict people's moods on the planet just like watching a weather front on the weather channel!

But that's still not all. The 3rd type of big brother surveillance system they've already put into place to FORCE US to go along with this One World Government is the Transportation System. You see, you might be out there thinking, "Well, there's no way they're going to get me! Okay, so maybe they're going to control my personal information and build this huge massive database on me and pigeonhole me into doing what they say, and maybe they're going to grab control of all my communication devices and listen to what I say, especially the word "Jesus," but hey, I'm out of here! I'm just going to hop in my car and check out of the system. They won't find me! Ha! Ha! Ha! I'm free!" Really? Not if they control your transportation! Folks, believe it or not, the Bible is clear. Transportation is going to become a huge need during the 7-year Tribulation! You better hope you don't drive a Yugo! But don't take my word for it. Let's listen to God's.

Matthew 24:15-22 "So when you see standing in the holy place the abomination that causes desolation, spoken of through the prophet Daniel – let the reader understand – then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. Let no one on the roof of his house go down to take anything out of the house. Let no one in the field go back to get his cloak. How dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers! Pray that your flight will not take place in winter or on the Sabbath. For then there will be great distress, unequalled from the beginning of the world until now – and never to be equaled again. If those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened."

Now folks, according to our text, the Bible clearly says that the during the 7-year Tribulation after the Antichrist shows his true colors and goes into the rebuilt Jewish temple to declare himself to be god, the abomination of desolation that was spoken by the Prophet Daniel that Jesus is referring to here, that's what He's talking about, what's going to happen at that time? People are going to be fleeing, right? They're going to be trying to get out of there in flight, quick flight, right? Why? Because other passages tell us that antichrist is going on a hunting spree at that time! He's going to be hunting people down and killing them! It's going to be a horrible slaughter literally, and that's what Zechariah says!

Zechariah 13:8-9 "In the whole land, declares the LORD, two-thirds will be struck down and perish; yet one-third will be left in it. This third I will bring into the fire; I will refine them like silver and test them like gold. They will call on my name and I will answer them; I will say, They are my people, and they will say, The LORD is our God."

The Jewish people finally turn back to God at this point. But as you saw it comes at a horrible price! Just the Jewish people alone, 2/3^{rds} of them are going to die at the hands of the Antichrist and only 1/3rd are going to be left. And other passages tell us that they are going to be sovereignly protected by God and Lord willing we'll get to that next week. But the point is this. Notice why Jesus says it going to be such a horrible time, in fact, worst than any other time. The slaughter is apparently going to be so great, that people there better high tail it out of there, right? ASAP! What'd He say? You better make flight, you better run, you better flee and you better do it fast! Don't go back into your house, don't go to your work place, don't get nothing, just get out of there now, right?

Therefore, common sense tells us that at this time during the 7-year Tribulation a source of good reliable transportation is going come in handy, right? Again, you better pray you don't own a Yugo! Okay, but seriously folks, for those who say, "Well hey, they're not going to get me! I'm just going to hop in my car and flee like Jesus said! I'm out of here! They can't get me! Ha! Ha! Ha! I'm free!" Really? Well, all the Antichrist has to do is control your transportation and you ain't going nowhere! You can't flee! You can't run! And you can't even hide! You're going to stick around for the slaughter just like the Bible said. And folks, can I tell you something? That's precisely what they're already doing! Total control of our Transportation!

And the 1st way they've already grabbed control of our Transportation System to prevent us from fleeing from a horrible situation is Our Vehicles. You see folks, believe it or not, right now, Big Brother not only knows everything we do, everything we say, everything we think, but they've even developed a system that monitors everywhere we go. Our cell phones, as we saw, are already being used as tracking devices, and just in case you don't have one, they can still know where you are at anytime anywhere on the planet with satellite technology. In fact, right now, Motorola has launched 66 low-orbiting satellites that can not only pick up signals from certain types of microchips, wouldn't that be handy if you implanted one, but now it's common knowledge that this kind of tracking system was already used to monitor the locations of military personnel in Iraq, boat traffic in Florida, and even garbage men in England are being watched right now from the sky on their jobs in order to make sure that they don't linger in one spot too long! But that's not all! Every square foot of farming land in Australia is now being watched via satellite to monitor food production and crop yields. And even here in America, satellites are being used by state governments to search for unreported improvements that might increase property taxes, to check for water-use permits, and to find improper tree cutting. In fact, they're now also using satellites in England to measure the speed of motorists from space! You won't have a radar detector for that one!

And that's still not all. Thanks to the backing by Bill Gates, we now have what's called Internet In The Sky. This is a system of 840 low-altitude satellites in twenty-one orbits with forty satellites in each orbit that creates a virtual electronic blanket around the whole planet, for the first time in the history of mankind! And now you can communicate and monitor any person anywhere on the planet from the top of the Himalayas to the bottom of the Dead Sea.

And then, just in case you actually did try to hop in your car and flee away on the ground, they've got that covered too with satellites! Anybody hear of OnStar? Yeah! You know, that nifty convenient device they implant in your vehicle to give them the ability to make a call, or unlock our doors, or send somebody out in an ambulance if you get in a wreck? Isn't that great? In fact, what's really nifty is if someone steals your car, they can still track your car and catch those "mean guys" right? Isn't that great? Well, here's the problem. What if you became the "bad guy"? When push comes to shove, if you became a "suspected terrorist" Christian, would they use this technology against you? Would they actually turn you in to the authorities and stop your vehicle? Well, believe it or not folks, it's already being done!

Check it out!

OnStar:

If you're a cable news watcher, there's a good chance that you caught one of the 30,000 car chases that take place in the U.S. each year. That amounts to nearly 3 high speed pursuits per hour. The risk is high for everyone involved, including innocent bystanders. On average, nearly 300 people are killed as a result of a car chase every year.

But OnStar, a company that offers 24 hour emergency roadside assistance says it has a solution. It's called Stolen Vehicle Slowdown Program.

Craig Loper <Mobile Deployment Systems> The key is to prevent the pursuit from becoming a high speed chase.

It lets law enforcement to take remote control of a stolen vehicle using satellite technology.

OnStar President Chet Huber: The way that Stolen Vehicle Slowdown works is our subscriber will report their vehicle stolen. We'll contact the police and we'll actually get the location of the vehicle using the OnStar system and the GPS capabilities that's built into the current technology. When the law enforcement officers have the vehicle in sight and when they determine it's safe to slow the vehicle down. We'll send a data message wirelessly into the vehicle. It will actually depower the vehicle in it's engine control module and take away control of the accelerator from the felon.

<OnStar> Attention driver, this vehicle is being slowed at the request of a law enforcement agency.

Attention driver! This vehicle is being slowed down because you're a suspected terrorist Christian and you're trying to flee the Antichrist system! Folks, we already have the technology right now to flip a switch and stop your vehicle wherever you are! So much for "fleeing the scene!" No wonder it's going to be a blood bath when the Antichrist shows his true colors!

But that's not all. You might be thinking, "Well hey, that's it! I'm not going to get that system installed on my vehicle! No siree! I'm just going to skip the whole thing and they still can't get me! Ha! Ha! Ha!" Well, you're assuming you're going to have a choice! You see, believe it or not, right now folks, the Government is working on, "mandating black boxes in all new cars, and this will allow them to "have constant real-time tracking, eavesdropping and surveillance" on any car wherever you go. Don't believe me? Here's just one news report sharing it.

Black Boxes for Cars:

These days, as you may know, cars have alot of features that the owners of the Model T back in the day could have never have imagined seat warmers, dvd players, rear-view video cameras, even Wi-Fi. Soon though, there may be a controversial and mandatory new feature-the ability to spy on your every move.

ABC's Mark Greenblatt is on the story. Mark, good morning.

Mark: Well good morning to you. Some call this plan sneaky, others say it will improve safety. But now the government wants to make it mandatory for your car to get one of those so-called black boxes, like they have in airplanes that can tell all if you get into a crash.

You're probably used to hearing about black boxes helping investigators solve airplane crashes. But car manufacturers have quietly placed similar devices in more and more vehicles. Turning our own cars into snitches. And now the Federal Government wants to require every small vehicle made from now on to get one of those black boxes saying this proposal will give us the critical insight and information we need to save more lives.

Really? Or maybe track more lives. Did you notice how car manufacturers are already putting them in there and you may not even know? Did you catch that part? In fact, these new "mandatory" black boxes will also enable them to do another thing they've been proposing to do for a while now. Get this. "A tax-by-the-mile system." That's right folks! They want to "tax" you for every mile you drive, because after all, it's good for the environment! You should ride a bike, you know! In fact, speaking of the environment, IBM has a patent out now for a device called the "Intelligent Stop Light" that enables them to turn off your car at a stoplight to "conserve fuel." Isn't that nice! Very environmentally friendly! And there's even a new proposed law out there that would put video cameras in your car to "film the occupants in the vehicle or the vehicle's surroundings and transmit those images back to a central office for inspection," just in case you get into an accident, you know. In fact, in San Francisco they've already installed "real time video cameras" on a majority of it's buses and other cities are doing the same thing and they're even "adding microphones to record passenger conversations." Why didn't they tell us they were doing that?

But here's the point. Correct me if I'm wrong, but it sure looks to me like all this new transportation technology is leading to a total monitoring of our everyday lives, for the first time in the history of mankind, how about you? I mean, gee whiz, the next thing you know, somebody's going to appear on the scene and start hunting people down and yet unfortunately nobody's going to be able flee and it's going to be a horrible bloodbath. Where have I heard that before? Oh yeah, that's right! That's the Antichrists kingdom and Big Brother Society that the Bible said would appear on the scene when you are living in the Last Days!

But that's not all. The 2nd way they've already grabbed control of our Transportation System to prevent us from being able to flee from a horrible situation is Our Cameras. You see, you might be out there thinking, "Well, there's no way they're going to get me! Okay, so maybe they're going to control my personal information and build this huge massive database on me, and maybe they're going to be able to monitor all my conversations, and maybe they're going to track and control my vehicle wherever I go, but hey, I'm just stay on foot! That's right! I'm just going to ride a bike or walk around, I don't need a car! Ha! Ha! Ha! I'm still free!" Really? Not if they put cameras wherever you go! And folks, believe it or not, that too is already happening! Thanks in part to Executive Orders, under the guise of "terrorism" and other "bad guy" reasons, the government now has full authority to utilize all kinds of new surveillance technology on us! That's right! Us! Not a foreign entity...us! And one of the biggest ways they're doing that is by installing cameras literally wherever we go! In fact, it's so commonplace now, that even USA Today put out an article on it!

"Whether as motorists or pedestrians; as visitors to convenience stores, banks, ATMs or the post office; as shoppers with credit cards or telephone users; even at leisure, in parks, playgrounds and golf courses, we're constantly on candid camera. Full-time surveillance is a reality of modern life."

Yes, even here in America! All in the name of supposedly reducing crime, or terrorism, or traffic concerns, or a whole list of other supposed excuses, millions of cameras right now are not only going up right here in America, but all over the world! And they're all tied together. Let me demonstrate. Right now you can go to tons of web sites to "monitor" traffic & "monitor" people, "just for fun" not only here in America but around the planet. Which means for the first time in history we can monitor someone anywhere on the planet! And if you don't believe me, check it out for yourself! Just do a web search for “online traffic cameras” or “live cams” or stuff like that and start monitoring people anywhere. Recently I was on a website called “Earth Cam” and I was watching live footage from Moscow and then hopped over to a resort in Hawaii and began watching people walk by “live” and I was wondering, “Gee, I wonder if those people in Hawaii have any idea that a Pastor from Vegas is watching them in his office!”

And here’s the point. Well surely this is all just for fun, right? I mean, surely they would never use this technology them to keep an eye on us for control purposes, would they?” Well folks, you tell me if that’s not where we’re headed to! Right now in England, there are over 4 million cameras in the government and private sector and it’s been dubbed a virtual “surveillance canopy.” And believe it or not folks, it’s all pretty much common knowledge to the average Britain and one person said this about just how dense this surveillance really is:

“So dense is the network that in many urban areas people may be monitored from the moment they step out of their front door and be kept under observation on their way to work, in the office, and even in a restaurant if they choose to dine out. Over the course of a day they could be filmed by 300 cameras. The latest figures show that, in cities, people are captured on film at least once every five minutes.”

Are you serious? Well folks, don’t take my word for it. Check it out for yourself!

CCTV in London

We're all being watched. On streets. In subways. Even in our own homes. Invisible eyes are searching for criminals and terrorists. New technologies track them before they strike. Intricate surveillance networks. Advance facial recognition.

“See if he matches anyone in our database.”

Even tracking devices implanted inside the body. Technologies that can make the invisible-visible. Electronic trails that reveal who we are and where we've been. Go behind the security doors and discover the secret in the often disturbing world of surveillance.

Morning rush hour in the most heavily surveilled city in the world. Over half a million cameras keep watch over Britain's capitol. Mechanical eyes loom from every corner. The average Londoner is filmed from over 300 cameras during the course of their day. A ring of cameras surrounds the center of London. Within seconds, every plate number is fed into a computer that tracks the comings and goings of each vehicle. This is just one small piece of a massive video surveillance system stretching across the city.

The current figure is roughly 4 million surveillance cameras throughout the U.K. If you're in London, Westminster's director, Robert McCallister, can follow nearly every move you make.

McCallister: When you come out of your house in the morning and you get on some form of transport, there's probably a CCTV camera. If you walk down a pedestrian street. If you go into a store. Anywhere that you are if you are within the city of London, you're probably at some stage going to be captured on CCTV.

The all-seeing thousand eyes of Big Brother.

Well hey, that's kind of creepy! But maybe that's just England.

Maybe that's just those cool people with those cool accents that I couldn't do last week. That would never happen in the U.S., would it? Actually, it's already here! Not only folks, do we have the same kind of surveillance in virtually every major city in the U.S. right now but the most watched city in the U.S. right now is Chicago. It's called "Operation Virtual Shield." Check it out!

Chicago: Surveillance State

Over the last decade the U.S. government has expanded its domestic surveillance network to unprecedented levels. From rows of street cameras to airport pat downs, many say for civil liberties and privacy are at stake. Here's the story from U.S.'s most monitored city.

Welcome to Chicago- the most watched city in the U.S. From old school blue light cameras to state of the art technical capabilities- watchful lenses filled the streets.

In what has been dubbed Operation Virtual Shield, thousands of public and privately owned security cameras have been put in place and linked together, creating a capsule of surveillance over the entire city, more extensive than anywhere else in the United States.

Officials say it's worth the price, but privacy concerns are at a peak.

Over 1,200 security cameras located throughout the city are said to be powerful enough to be able to zoom into a text of a book or even a text message. To journalist, Salim Muwakkil, the concept of privacy in the U.S. is long gone.

Muwakkil: You become immune to the surveillance attitude that the law enforcement has taken.

Salim says Chicago increasingly resembles the chilling anti-utopia described in George Orwell's legendary novel 1984, where every word, action and even thought was monitored by Big Brother.

Muwakkil: Surveillance State The only thing that's missing are the microphones advising us on how to live our lives.

Unfortunately, they already have that as well, we'll get to that in a second. But folks, believe it or not, that's still just the tip of the iceberg! Total monitoring of our lives! Believe it or not, they're even installing cameras in forests!

“US Forest service admits putting surveillance cameras on public lands.

Last month, Herman Jacob took his daughter and her friend camping in the forest and while poking around for some firewood, Jacob noticed a wire. He pulled on it and followed it to a video camera and antenna.

The camera didn't have any markings identifying its owner, so Jacob took it home and called law enforcement agencies to find out if it was theirs...

All the while wondering why someone would station a video camera in an isolated clearing in the woods. He eventually received a call from the U.S. Forest Service and was ordered to take it back.

Jacob returned the camera but still felt uneasy and said this, “Why would the Forest Service have secret cameras in a relatively remote camping area? And what do they do with photos of bystanders and how many hidden cameras are they using, and for what purposes?”

Yeah, I agree! Why do you gotta put cameras in the forest? Hello! But that's still not all! It's a global movement! Right now Japan has also followed suit with tons of it's own cameras and they've even gone so far as to do what that guy said was the only missing piece missing in George Orwell's 1984. They've installed intercoms on their cameras to warn people of inappropriate behavior. “Hey! Stop that! We see you! That is not right! Knock it off!” But hey, that's just in Japan, right? We wouldn't do that here, would we? Again, unfortunately, we already are! Right now they've already installed "hidden microphones on utility poles and rooftops in Los Angeles to monitor "strange noises" of course, and they've even launched a new program here in the U.S. called "Intelli-streets" where our light posts do much more now than just emit light! Check this out!

Intellistreets

Diana Lewis: Some critics say this is nothing more than the watchful eye of Big Brother, keeping track of your every moment. ⁷ Action News reporter, Julie Bonovich gives us a closer look at this high tech system from Farmington Hills.

"Your attention please."

Julie Bonovich: That voice you just heard came from this street light.

"Please stand by for a public safety announcement."

Ron Harwood (Inventor): In each lighting fixture or in each lighting pole there's a processor, very much like an I-Phone and it takes inputs and outputs, it talks back and forth, and the poles actually talk to each other Bonovich: LED screens and cameras and to the wireless infrastructure that is remotely controlled. It can provide entertainment, save energy, make announcements.

"This is a security alert."

Bonovich: And it even counts people for police. The system is also capable of recording conversations and by spring of next year, there's a good chance you can see them popping up in your city.

"This is a security alert. A security alert!"

Danger! Danger Will Robinson! Can you believe that? George Orwell eat your heart out! I wonder if they'll have a security alert for Christians one day? "Security Alert! Have you seen this person? We heard them mention the Name of Jesus! Security alert!" Not science fiction anymore, is it? But that's still not all. Just to make sure you get monitored no matter where you go, even if you were to somehow find some spot where they didn't actually have a camera or light post, they can still monitor you with something called smart dust! And what smart dust is, is it's a tiny little surveillance device so small, it's literally the size of a piece of dust, and it can float in the air just like dust and be suspended by air currents for hours sensing and communicating information on you. Don't believe me? Here's a new report on it!

Lori Matsukawa: A project first dreamed up by the military to get information from the battlefield.

Dennis Bounds: They call it Smart Dust and the new technology may soon make it possible to keep track of anything, anywhere, including you.

Every square inch of every city will be alive with intelligence because every street and every building will have a network of microcomputers built right into them. Dr. Kristofer Pister calls it smart dust.

Dr. Pister: Smart Dust particle or mote is a wireless sensor with sensing, computation, communication and power in one package.

Tiny specs of computer smart dust will form a vast invisible network that can help manage the infrastructure of even the largest city. Smart Cities in the future will take this low power, inexpensive small technology and basically distribute it everywhere. These tiny computers record information about their surroundings. Information they can send to other computers. Smart dust will also allow buildings and streets to recognize you and respond accordingly.

Guida Jouret (of Emerging Markets Tech Cisco) increasingly the environment will respond to who we are and adapt in consequence.

Dr.Pister: The city will know who you are, where you are if you want it to.

Your workplace will know you. Smart Dust at the entrance will boot up your computer. Smart Dust embedded in the elevator doors will automatically ring your floor.

Smart Dust is going to sense the environment and allow us to improve the way we live our lives.

Smart Dust is a very very small particle, that's nano sized, that has a specific function. Smart Dust may already be in our atmosphere. This looks like, if you look at certain times of the day-and you see dust but its not dust- it's like an iridescent glitter there's a specific difference between regular household dust

I got one of those 10 million watts of spotlights-if you go out at night and point it up to the sky and you can't believe what's floating in the air. It's really disgusting.

Like if you're seeing this iridescence-it looks just like glitter-that's a smart dust type material versus regular household dust that does not reflect back."

Hmmm. Sure hope you don't breathe that in! So much for being able to hide or flee! Looks to me like all this new camera technology is leading to a total monitoring of our everyday lives, for the first time in the history of mankind, how about you? I mean, the next thing you know, somebody's going to appear on the scene and start hunting people down and nobody's going to be able flee because even the dust will give you away! No wonder it's going to be a bloodbath!

Folks, what more does God have to do? This is not a game! This is real! God doesn't want us going into the Antichrist's kingdom, and He certainly doesn't want us to go into HELL! And so that's why, out of love, He's given us these signs of a One World Government and a Big Brother Society to show us that the Tribulation is near, Christ's 2nd Coming is rapidly approaching. And that's why Jesus Himself said:

Luke 21:28 "When these things begin to take place, stand up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near."

People, like it or not, we are headed for The Final Countdown. And so the point is this. If you're here today as a Christian, it's time to get busy! We've got to lay aside our differences and start getting busy working together saving souls by the Spirit of God! Amen?

But if you're here today and you're not a Christian, then I beg you, please, heed the signs...heed the warnings...give your life to Jesus today...because the last place you ever want to be is in the Antichrist's Kingdom and he's going to monitor everything! And I mean everything, like this guy found out!

Mary: Thank you, Mr. Kelly. I see you live at 736 Montrose Court but you're calling from your cell phone. Are you home?

Mr. Kelly: I'm just leaving work but I'm..<interupted>

Mary: OH! But we can deliver to Bob's Auto Supply! That's at 175 Lincoln Avenue, yes?

Mr. Kelly: NO! I'm on my way home. How do you know all this stuff?

Mary: We just got wired into The System, sir.

Mr. Kelly: Oh...well...I'd like to order a couple of your Double Meat Special pizzas.

Mary: Sure thing. There will be a new $20 charge for those, sir.

Mr. Kelly: What do you mean.

Mary: Sir, The System shows your medical records indicate that you have high blood pressure and extremely high cholesterol. Luckily we have a new agreement with your national health care provider that allows us to sell you Double Meat Pies as long as you agree to waive all future claims of liability.

Mr. Kelly: What!?

Mary: Do you agree, sir? You can sign the form when we deliver but there is a charge for processing. The total is $67 even.

Mr. Kelly: $67?!

Mary: That includes the delivery surcharge of $15 to cover the added risk to our driver traveling through an orange zone.

Mr. Kelly: I live in an orange zone?

Mary: Now you do. Looks like there was another robbery on Montrose yesterday. Hmmm. You could save $48 dollars if you ordered our special Sprout Submarine Combo and pick it up yourself. Comes with tofu sticks, they're very tasty sir. Good value too.

Mr. Kelly: But I want double meat.

Mary: Well I'm sure you can afford the $67 then. You just bought those tickets to Hawaii-they weren't cheap, eh? Ohhhh, I see you checked out the Budget Beach Bum at the Library last week. Hmmm. Up to you sir.

Mr. Kelly: Alright, alright. I'll get the Sprout Subs.

Mary: Good choice, sir! Gotta watch that waist if you're hitting the beach, eh? 42" inch waist, wow. I'd say tofu and sprouts is like required.

Mr. Kelly: That's HOW MUCH?

Mary: Just between you and me-there's a $3 dollar off coupon in this month's Total Men's Fitness magazine. Your wife Betty subscribes to that right? Anyhow, clip that and it's $19.99 even. WHOA! Looks like you maxed out on all your credit cards.³⁰

To find the way to God, to understand the truth of God's Word, and to received the gift of eternal life, begin by repentance and faith through a prayer like this:

“Dear God, I understand that I have broken Your Law and sinned against You. Please forgive my sins. Thank You that Jesus suffered on the cross in my place. I now place my trust in Him as My Savior and Lord. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.”
